

First day of school for new teachers

This past week members of the West New York Board of Education welcomed its new crop of teachers for the 2009-2010 school year. On Wednesday, Aug. 26, the group was invited to the Middle School for a teacher orientation workshop, where they learned about the district, each other, and received their official IDs.

Afterwards, many of the teachers were allowed to tour their schools and their classrooms. In addition, other staff members were at the Middle School for training on the new student information system Power School, which recently replaced Sasi. Click here for photos of the workshops.
