

Take that H1N1!

Right before the Thanksgiving break, the preschool students of West New York began receiving their shots of the H1N1 vaccine. Currently the West New York School District received enough supply of the vaccine to administer shots to the entire early childhood population of over 1,000 kids.

Click here for pictures of our brave little boys and girls.