Tomorrow's Teachers visit the Amvets Early Childhood School

Tomorrow's Teachers students from Memorial High School visited the Early Childhood Center on Boulevard East on May 27th, 2011, to partake in various activities with the preschoolers to promote literacy. Some of those activities were: face painting, a read along, planting flowers, and making musical instruments. The high school students really enjoyed creating their own lessons and activities for the preschoolers. All students, young and old, enjoyed a wonderful day.
